

Keynote lecture at CRIG's OncoPoint symposium 2024 (29 April, Gent)

Prof. Claus Garbe

'Neoadjuvant immunotherapy for melanoma (from translational research insights to clinical implementation)'

Affiliation:

Professor at the Center for Dermatooncology, Eberhard Karls University, Tuebingen & President of the European Association of DermatoOncology

Short biography

Professor Claus Garbe obtained his MD in 1983 at the Free University of Berlin, Germany, he was board certified in Dermatology and Venereology in 1987 and was awarded his habilitation (PhD equivalent) in 1990, focusing on the biology of melanoma cells. 1995 he was appointed University Professor of Dermatology and Head of the Division of Dermatooncology at Eberhard Karls University, Tuebingen. Professor Garbe has been awarded as the first dermatologist with the German Cancer Award in 1995. He has been a principal investigator in numerous multicenter clinical trials since 1989. He has authored more than 770 articles and 17 text books (H index 105 points). Currently, Professor Garbe is the President of the European Association of DermatoOncology.

