

NOVEL COMBINATION STRATEGIES FOR CANCER TREATMENT: current challenges and future directions

PRACTICAL INFORMATION

When	Friday, 1 st of February 2019
Where	University of Antwerp - Campus Drie Eiken - Q building - auditorium Q002 Universiteitsplein 1, 2610 Wilrijk, Belgium Free shuttle service Antwerp-Berchem train station - Campus Drie Eiken available
Registration	Deadline: 15 th of December 2018 (abstract) - 15 th of January 2019 (attending)
Abstract	Deadline: 15 th of December 2018 (submission & registration) 350-word abstract - any subject other than the main topic is welcomed
Info & website	www.bacr.be - online registration and abstract submission

8:30

Optional shuttle bus pick-up at Antwerp-Berchem train station
(free but pre-registration mandatory, leaves at 8:30 sharp)

9:00

Registration & coffee

9:30 - 12:10

MORNING SESSION (Chairs: Dirk Verellen & Julie Jacobs)

9:30

Michael Baumann - German Cancer Research Center Heidelberg, DKFZ, Germany
Radiation oncology in the era of personalized medicine

10:00

Conchita Vens - Netherlands Cancer Institute, The Netherlands
Biological fine-tuning of radiation beam power: DNA repair inhibitors and radiotherapy

10:30

~ coffee break ~

11:00

Young investigators: oral presentations of 4 selected abstracts

12:00

BACR general assembly

12:15 - 13:30

LUNCH AND POSTER SESSION

13:30 - 16:30

AFTERNOON SESSION (Chairs: An Wouters & Christophe Deben)

13:30

Patrizia Agostinis - Catholic University of Leuven, Belgium
Integrating immunogenic cell death within the landscape of current cancer immunotherapies

14:00

Young investigators: oral presentations of 4 selected abstracts

15:00

~ coffee break ~

15:30

Carine Michiels - University of Namur, Belgium
Radiosensitization through nanoparticles or synthetic lethality

16:00

Evelien Smits - University of Antwerp, Belgium
Combination strategies with immune checkpoint targeting to improve immunotherapy outcome

16:30

Award ceremony for best oral and poster presentations
Concluding remarks and closing

17:00

Optional shuttle bus pick-up to Antwerp-Berchem train station
(free but pre-registration mandatory, leaves at 17:00 sharp)